Bible translation requires many hands on deck. Our organization's goal of seeing the Bible translated into 1,000 languages by 2050 means there is a lot of work to do. That means that in addition to checking the translation of verses in specific languages, I need to help train others to be qualified to check verses in other languages, too. To help equip me for this task, I recently attended a week-long "Train the Trainers" workshop in Ruiru, near Nairobi, Kenya.

There we learned how to run training workshops to train others to become translation leaders and consultants. We studied how to design quality and engaging instruction materials, use interactive training methods, facilitate meetings and deal with problem participants successfully, use blended learning techniques, plan and organize a training event, give and receive feedback from those we coach, and how to flourish as a mentor.

We also enjoyed informal conversations over coffee and meals, an excursion, and prayer time together.

There were 20 participants from 14 different countries, a very enriching and very multi-colored gathering.

Please pray for us, that we would successfully serve others in the ongoing tasks of training those who can train others, until the whole world has heard.

Pray for much wisdom from the Lord to apply what I have learned as I mentor others who are in the process of becoming Bible translation consultants.

Pray also for insight and time to write a training manual that I've started working on to give practical advice and checklists to those learning to become translation leaders. And pray for wisdom to be able to assess what up-and-coming consultants need to learn, so I can help them in their role of maintaining quality assurance in our Bible translations

Praise God that we have commitments from nine people to join our family (Todd, Pamala, Daniel and Ariela) to come with us to Croatia June 18-18. Pray for each team member for the finances they need and for the logistics for us to be able to meet together to practice the skits and songs before traveling to Croatia.

Please also pray for open hearts in a new (third) village, Kutina, we plan to go to this year to do an evening VBS on the two days we also do a teen day camp, after the three days of VBS in two other villages.

Praise God for recent donations toward the cost of sending our family to Croatia this summer. Please continue to pray for the remaining $5,000 to send our family.

Thank you for your prayers!
